PQ Scenofest 2007

The Prague Quadrennial is the only Exhibition of its kind and magnitude in the world, which exhibits contemporary stage designs and theatre architecture. The exhibition, together with its series of accompanying activities, creates a unique space for seminars, workshops, meetings of theatre practitioners from all over the world and also provides an opportunity of observing and comparing the development of world theatre - especially its design components

The Prague Quadrennial Student Section and Scenofest 2007 will provide students, young practitioners, teachers and experienced professionals with an unforgettable experience.

Scenofest is a shared project between the OISTAT Education Commission and the Theatre Institute Prague. More information about both organizations and the Prague Quadrennial can be found at the following links:

Scenofest is open to participation by students, young practitioners interested in performance design, from the architecture of the theatre building, to the costumes worn, and the sounds and sights made within the performance space.

To simply be at the Scenofest will be a unique experience, presenting an opportunity to sense the creative possibilities of the world of performance design.

To volunteer to be a part of the creative or administrative Scenofest management team, will let you be a part of a dedicated team, of students, young practitioners, experienced professionals and educators sharing a wish to make Scenofest an unforgettable event.

To be a part of one of the Scenofest exhibitions, performances or workshops, will introduce you to working practices from around the world, new friends and future international collaborators.
